

A series of horizontal lines are drawn across the page, creating a grid for writing. The lines are evenly spaced and extend from the left margin to the right margin. The top line is a double line, while the others are single lines. The lines are black and have a consistent thickness.

A series of horizontal lines spanning the width of the page, creating a ruled or lined appearance. The lines are evenly spaced and extend from the left margin to the right margin, with the top line being slightly thicker than the others.