

Two sets of horizontal lines are present on the page. The top set consists of seven lines, with the topmost line being a double line. The bottom set consists of twenty lines. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across the width of the page, with a small gap between the two sets of lines.

A series of horizontal lines are drawn across the page, creating a grid for writing. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across the width of the page, with a slightly larger margin at the top. The lines are thin and black, and they are arranged in a regular pattern, with one line at the top and one at the bottom, and many lines in between.
